2006 mesh Riesling Eden Valley, Australia

This joint effort between Jeffrey Grosset and Robert Hill Smith has the complexity you'd expect from the combination of such land and personnel. Already showing petrolly tinges despite just over a year in bottle, the wine is also taut in true Germanic style, and with an intensity bourne of minerality rather than fruit. An impressive effort from the pair.

Intense: 2006 mesh Riesling is an exercise in minerality.
